

Time	Speaker
9:00-9:20am	Lea-Anne Henry Heriot-Watt University	Welcome & "Updates on the MASTS SIORC Community Project"
9:10-9:50am	Fred Whoriskey Ocean Tracking Network, Dalhousie University	"The Ocean Tracking Network: A global aquatic animal tracking system"
9:50-10:10am	James Thorburn University of Aberdeen	"Use of multidisciplinary studies for elasmobranch MPAs"
10:10-10:20am	Suz Henderson Scottish Natural Heritage	"Key areas in Scotland for basking sharks and new insights into their migration movements"
10:20-10:40am	Yannis Papastamatiou University of St. Andrews	"Hunt while cooling: hunting tactics and physiology drive daily routines in reef sharks"
10:40-11:00am	Coffee break
11:00-11:20am	Irene Kingma Dutch Elasmobranch Society	"Research into the use of the Oosterschelde estuary by starry smooth hound (Mustellus asterias) and stingray (Dasyatis pastinaca) to improve elasmobranch management in the North Sea"
11:20-11:40am	Ruth Hoban Sustainable Inshore Fisheries Trust	"Sustainable Inshore Fisheries Trust & potential benefits of a healthy Clyde to sea anglers & elasmobranchs"
11:40-12:00pm	Mike Bell Heriot-Watt University (ICIT)	"A spatial fisheries model for thornback ray in the Irish Sea, using movement data from data storage tags"
12:00-1:00pm	Group discussion	Methods to achieve a multi-stakeholder approach to mapping important areas (nurseries, feeding, migration routes) for elasmobranchs in Scottish waters
1:00pm	Closing	